FUND STRATEGY

The Counterpoint Tactical Equity Fund aims to outperform equity indexes through owning a global multi-factor portfolio with an algorithmic trend-following overlay. The multi-factor stock selection model seeks to identify companies with the most potential for beneficial outcomes with respect to the Fund's positioning. The algorithmic trend-following overlay seeks to avoid bear-market exposure within the portfolio.

POTENTIAL BENEFITS

Trend-following Overlay

Tactical market overlay gives investors the possibility to avoid the bulk of losses experienced in prolonged bear markets.

Holdings Diversification

Long-short global market-neutral (zero beta) portfolio holds at least 400 names.

Alpha Potential

Market-neutral part of the portfolio provides meaningful exposure in under-competed international markets and positioning in shorts is large enough to provide substantial alpha potential.

Low Correlation

The stock-selection model exhibits low to zero correlation to the broad stock market.

Strategy Diversification

Stocks are ranked with a multifactor model with 10+ core factors at all times.

Innovative & Recent Factors

Multi-factor model is based on evolving academic research on behavioral mistakes investors make over the long run.

INVESTMENT APPROACH

The Counterpoint Tactical Equity Fund is a distinct mutual fund in the 40-act space, made up of two elements: a quantitative global market-neutral foundation and a trend-following U.S. index overlay.

- The trend-following index overlay dynamically responds to market conditions and readjusts portfolio beta on a monthly basis. It is designed to improve the long-term downside risk profile of the Fund.
- Plain momentum, value, and beta anomalies dominate existing quantitative offerings in the investment industry. Counterpoint's dynamic factor-driven stock selection model includes more recently persistent factors not available to retail fund investors driven by short interest data, profitability measures, efficiency, share issuance, etc. All of these factor choices are driven by return robustness and behavioral economic drivers that justify their inclusion in the portfolio.

The use of leverage by the Fund or an Underlying Fund, such as borrowing money to purchase securities or the use of derivatives, will indirectly cause the Fund to incur additional expenses and magnify the Fund's gains or losses. Derivative instruments involve risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. There is a risk that issuers and counterparties will not make payments on securities and other investments held by the Fund, resulting in losses to the Fund. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. There is no assurance the Funds will meet their stated objectives.
