Definitions

Standard deviation is a measure of dispersion of returns from its mean return. Higher deviation represents higher volatility. Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure of a fund's performance that indicates a fund's return per unit of risk, defining risk as volatility (standard deviation).

Correlation is a statistical measure of how two securities move in relation to each other. Beta is a measure of the fund's sensitivity to market movements. Beta greater than 1 is more volatile than the market; beta lower than 1 is less volatile than the market.

The Bloomberg Barclays Municipal Bond Index covers the USD-denominated long-term tax exempt bond market. The index has four main sectors: state and local general obligation bonds, revenue bonds, insured bonds, and prerefunded bonds. The Municipal High Yield Index as shown above is defined as the Bloomberg Barclays Municipal High Yield Total Return Index. As it is not possible to invest in the index the data shown does not reflect or compare features of an actual investment, such as its objectives, costs and expenses, liquidity, safety, guarantees or insurance, fluctuation of principal or return, or tax features.

Important Risk Information

Mutual Funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. The use of leverage by the Fund or an Underlying Fund, such as borrowing money to purchase securities or the use of derivatives, will indirectly cause the Fund to incur additional expenses and magnify the Fund's gains or losses. Derivative instruments involve risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. There is a risk that issuers and counterparties will not make payments on securities and other investments held by the Fund, resulting in losses to the Fund. The Fund may invest in high yield securities, also known as "junk bonds." High yield securities provide greater income and opportunity for gain, but entail greater risk of loss of principal. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. There is no assurance the Fund will meet its stated objectives.

Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Counterpoint Tactical Municipal Fund.
